HORNSEY

TOWN HALL

A NEW PLACE FOR LIVING, WORKING, VISITING AND CREATIVITY IN THE HEART OF CROUCH END.

IMAGERY

Set around the restoration of the iconic Grade II* listed Hornsey Town Hall, this vibrant new development brings together modern apartment living alongside leading entertainment, culture, renowned restaurants and first-class service – all while honouring the building's distinguished legacy.

The Town Hall will house a new arts centre, a co-working space and a hotel operated by Dorsett Hospitality International with a rooftop bar for all to enjoy. In the grounds, the landscaped Town Hall Square will host public cultural events, which can be enjoyed from the lively cafés and outdoor seating.

This collection of new residential buildings, designed by renowned and award winning Make Architects, takes inspiration from the original design of both the listed Town Hall and Hornsey Library buildings. This new design creates world-class architecture while complementing the historic surroundings.

A MODERNIST LANDMARK,
METICULOUSLY RESTORED TO ITS FORMER GLORY.

The Hornsey Town Hall legacy extends beyond its leading design. As a home to the council, it included committee rooms, administrative offices, a council chamber and a multi-purpose hall with seating for around 800 people. It was in this hall that crowds witnessed a number of rock music's most legendary stars kickstart their careers, from The Kinks' Ray Davies playing some of his earliest gigs, through to Queen making their first ever London performance in 1971.

This rich heritage lives on today as Hornsey Town Hall enters its next chapter as a cultural hub, hotel and co-working in the heart of Crouch End.

A PRESTIGIOUS PAST

The Grade II* listed building is steeped in history, with the Town Hall Square at Crouch End Broadway forming its grand front entrance. Its rich heritage stretches back more than 80 years.

The building was commissioned in the early 1930s and completed in 1935 to house Hornsey Borough Council, later known as Haringey Council. The chosen architect was the New Zealand-born Reginald Uren, who found inspiration in the form and functionality of modern Scandinavian architecture. As a result, Hornsey Town Hall became one of the earliest and most iconic examples of modernist architecture in Britain. This pioneering design would be recognised in 1981, when the Town Hall was granted Grade II* listed status, making it one of the country's most culturally and architecturally significant buildings.

PRESERVING HISTORY

Honouring its rich heritage, the Town Hall will be lovingly restored and the iconic period features that are still found across the building will be refurbished and celebrated.

Across the Town Hall, timber panelling is being meticulously restored by hand, while the stonework and bronze balustrades in the main foyer are being repaired to their original prestige. In the council chamber, the unique leather seating will be retained and re-upholstered, while the original stage proscenium in the main hall is being refurbished, preserving the period grandeur.

Art Deco fixtures such as original parquet and terrazzo flooring, light fittings, signage, window frames, glazed panelled doors, original ironmongery, metal detailing and balustrades will be cleaned and polished, while the original clock system is being restored, so that all of the building's 73 clocks will be returned to full working order.

Furthermore, some of the furniture originally designed for and used in the Town Hall, will be restored and reutilised within the building, including the grand piano.

Later modern additions will be carefully stripped away to reveal and celebrate the building's 1930s architecture and interiors. New, sensitive and complementary interventions will guarantee the Town Hall's future, giving this much loved building a longevity for all to enjoy.

THE APARTMENTS

INSPIRED BY HISTORY

IMAGERY

- 1 Apartment entrance featuring carefully crafted metal detailing
- 2 Architectural detailing on the Uren building

The collection of studio, one, two and three bedroom apartments are spread across two newly built blocks, a mews building and a carefully restored Broadway annex in the Town Hall grounds. Make Architects has ensured that the new buildings capture the spirit and style of Hornsey Town Hall, with carefully thought out architectural influences and detail incorporated in both the exterior design and internal specification of the new build apartments.

This will be evident in the façades, where layered brickwork and carefully crafted geometric metal balustrades come together to reflect the Town Hall's original Art Deco features and modernist aesthetic along with the distinctive concrete pattern from the Hornsey Library.

Inside, the apartments will be fitted in accordance to the original Art Deco detailing, including features such as replica door handles, chevron timber flooring, terrazzo-inspired surfaces, Art Deco style bathroom lighting, metal balustrade balcony detailing, referencing the distinctive 1930s décor present throughout the Town Hall.

THE COURTYARDS

“THE VARIETY OF COURTYARDS,
WALKWAYS AND GARDENS
ENSURE GREENERY IS RARELY
OUT OF SIGHT AT HORNSEY
TOWN HALL”

In addition to Town Hall Square, the development includes a variety of gardens, courtyards and green walkways, each with its own distinct character and personality.

At the heart of the site, the charming residential east wing garden will comprise a large central lawn, surrounded by attractive planting which will bring people together to socialise in the warmer months. From planted walkways and outdoor play areas to formal lawns and carefully curated flowerbeds, the selection of courtyards and gardens ensure greenery is rarely out of sight at Hornsey Town Hall.

THE LIVING AREAS

Finished to the highest standards, the stylish apartments will include floor-to-ceiling windows in the open-plan living area, flooding the room with plenty of natural light. Referencing the original wood panelling and flooring in the Town Hall, chevron timber flooring will flow from the hallways through to the living spaces. In the kitchens, fully integrated appliances will provide state-of-the-art facilities for cooking and storage, while terrazzo inspired solid worktops will allow plenty of space for meal preparation.

THE BEDROOMS & BATHROOMS

With tall windows and white walls, the light and airy bedrooms are the ideal place to wind down at the end of the day. The built-in wardrobes are set to provide plenty of concealed storage space, and many of the master bedrooms will benefit from ensuite bathrooms and direct access to balconies or terraces.

Lined with chevron porcelain wall and floor tiles, the sleek bathrooms will offer a contemporary take on Hornsey Town Hall's modernist aesthetic. The mirrored storage cabinet and vanity unit feature satin nickel framing and opal lighting, bringing an Art Deco touch to the room. The large walk-in showers have both wall mounted and hand-held showers. The ensuite to the duplex apartments feature large freestanding bathtubs.

THE BALCONIES & TERRACES

The majority of apartments at Hornsey Town Hall will feature balconies, terraces or small gardens, with direct access from either the living areas or master bedrooms. The balconies will be lined with detailed metal balustrades, reflecting the Town Hall's distinctive exterior. The balconies will make for perfect spots to enjoy a morning coffee in the open air, while the terraces and gardens will be ideal for entertaining friends on balmy summer evenings.

LIFE AT HORNSEY TOWN HALL

TOWN HALL SQUARE

Town Hall Square has long been the heart of the Crouch End community. Over the years, the space has changed and evolved in use and appearance, reflecting the needs and tastes of the time.

In line with the wider restoration of the building, the Square will be rejuvenated to celebrate its original features, including the distinctive fountain and period street lighting. The central green space will still host the existing shady mature trees and lawn garden, while integrated seating will border the area and soft planting is set to bring bursts of colour.

Lining the Square, cafés and restaurants will serve al fresco diners as seating spills outside, and local traders and stall owners will set up shop on market day. A variety of cultural and social events will create a vibrant, inclusive space for all to enjoy.

THE HOTEL & CO-WORKING HUB

Opening up from the hotel reception, operated by Dorsett Hospitality International, you will find the main co-working hub. This open-plan space will unite entrepreneurs, freelancers, creatives and small business owners from the Crouch End community. A concierge will also be on hand 24/7 in the Town Hall building.

On the upper floors, further flexible workspaces will meet specific needs, from hot-desking areas to private offices designed for start-ups and growing companies. A selection of bespoke facilities are also being fitted across the building, with recording studios on the lower ground floor and rehearsal spaces in the assembly hall.

The welcoming break-out spaces will be furnished with a mixture of refurbished antique and modern furniture. The lounge areas will provide social space for everyone to engage in the building, from musicians and filmmakers to entrepreneurs, residents, visitors and business owners. On the top floor, the roof terrace and bar will be a great place to relax, taking in the ambience and the far-reaching views across Crouch End and beyond.

“OPERATED BY DORSETT HOSPITALITY INTERNATIONAL, THE HOTEL WILL SPAN FOUR FLOORS TO THE EAST WING OF HORNSEY TOWN HALL”

THE ARTS CENTRE

"THE TOWN HALL WILL BE HOME TO A NEW ARTS CENTRE HOSTING A DIVERSE PROGRAMME OF HIGH QUALITY LIVE PERFORMANCES AND EVENTS"

In addition to the creative and co-working spaces, the Town Hall will be home to a modern, new Arts Centre hosting a diverse programme of high quality performances and events, from theatre and film to music, dance, comedy and cabaret shows.

Run by cutting-edge arts and media specialists, Time + Space Co., the Arts Centre will push the boundaries of live entertainment, drawing on future-proofed technologies to host 3D hologram performances and live streams of international ballet, theatre and opera.

In the warmer months, activity will spill out onto Town Hall Square for summer fairs, exhibitions, local farmers' markets and the annual Crouch End festival, which brings the whole community together for live music, food stalls and an open-air cinema.

The Arts Centre is being designed to ensure it paves the way for a cultural renaissance for Crouch End and for the borough and beyond. It will be a place to serve the needs of the local community and businesses and a visitor destination hosting world-class entertainment. The environment will promote productivity and creativity, all underpinned with a top class hospitality experience for people to work, socialise, relax and enjoy for generations to come.

A TREAT FOR THE SENSES

When it comes to eating out, Crouch End caters to every taste and occasion. Its streets are home to cuisines from all corners of the world, with Thai restaurants, Mediterranean cafés, steakhouses and pizzerias sitting side by side.

For an after-dinner drink, head to one of Crouch End's many watering holes. The variety of quirky cocktail bars, microbreweries and basement clubs draw locals and visitors alike, while the gastropubs and traditional ale houses serve hearty pub lunches alongside a choice of local ales, speciality gins and expertly selected wines.

A CULTURAL HOME

Since the likes of Ray Davies and Freddie Mercury graced the stage at Hornsey Town Hall, Crouch End has been a natural home for the arts. The local pubs and clubs welcome up-and-coming musicians, comedians and actors, who perform to crowds throughout the week.

On Tottenham Lane, the Crouch End ArtHouse puts on screenings, theatre and musical performances, while the neighbouring Picturehouse cinema attracts cinephiles with the latest film releases and exclusive talks and Q&As. Just ten minutes away by bus, Alexandra Palace hosts internationally acclaimed acts, who perform to thousands of fans in the historic concert hall.

Joining these cultural institutions, the Arts Centre at Hornsey Town Hall will continue to host a wide range of performances, exhibitions, gigs and concerts, as well as hosting the annual Crouch End festival, which brings live music, craft markets, an open-air cinema and much more to the heart of Crouch End.

RETAIL THERAPY

If you're partial to an afternoon spent meandering through vintage boutiques, gift stores and craft shops, with a pause for coffee in between, Crouch End is the ideal destination.

Florists curate vibrant window displays, bringing bright flashes of colour to the streets, while weekends see locals and visitors alike browsing the interesting array of homeware stores, and record collectors clutching second-hand vinyl.

Traditional shopping centres Brent Cross and Westfield Stratford are easily accessible.

OUT & ABOUT

North London is blessed with an abundance of greenery. From the undulating sprawl of Hampstead Heath to the shady paths of Highgate Wood, these spaces form the heart and soul of the surrounding communities, uniting picnickers, runners, dog-walkers and cyclists alike.

With the Victorian grandeur of Alexandra Park to the north, and the landscaped gardens of Finsbury Park to the south, Crouch End sits in between some of the city's best-loved green spaces. A short walk up from the Broadway, the charming Priory Park draws locals for strolls among the mature silver birches, plane trees and well-maintained flowerbeds, with the opportunity to stop for coffee at the park's independently run café.

Nearby, Crouch End's lido on Park Road draws keen swimmers for a bracing dip out in the open air. At the height of the season, children splash around in the play pool, sunbathers set up for the day on the grassy slopes, and people glide up the lanes with the sun beating down on their backs.

The summer months also see the neighbouring Shepherd's Cot Trust playing fields spring to life, as crowds gather to sip cool drinks and cheer boundaries scored and aces hit at the Highgate Cricket and Lawn Tennis Club. When the weather isn't so fine, the indoor pool, gym and sports courts at the Park Road Leisure Centre attract people for group classes and personal workouts throughout the week.
